The screenshot shows the edmentum homepage for user Jessica Smith. At the top, there's a navigation bar with icons for Home, Messages, Notes, My Rewards, and Sign Out. Below the user's name and date, there are filters for 'Filter by Type' (Add type...) and 'Filter by Status' (Open). A 'Sort by' dropdown is set to 'Last Accessed'. The main content area displays five course cards: 'Test Pack' (ACT Science Test), 'Courseware' (Accelerate to English 9), 'Courseware' (PLATO Course Biology), 'Exact Path' (Function Notation and Function Concepts), and 'Flex' (American Revolution). Each card shows the end date, course grade, and progress status (e.g., 'In Progress', 'On Pace', 'Ahead Of Pace').

Open a module

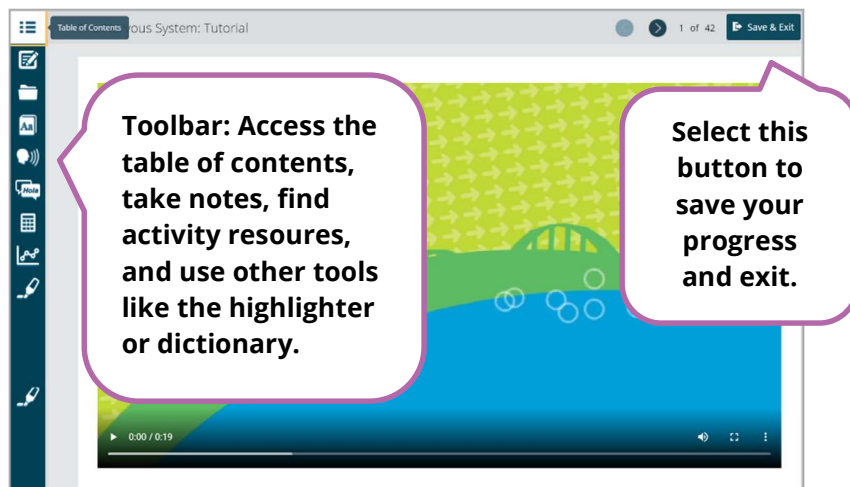

1. To quickly look for activities you still need to complete, filter by Not Started. Then select the activity you want to work on.

2. This is your activity launch page. Click Play on the activity you want to begin.

- This is an example of an activity. Each landing screen may look a bit different. Each activity has a toolbar on the left side, like the one below.

Understand pacing

If your courses have end dates, you'll see color-coded bars for each of your courses when you first log in. These bars tell you how much work you've done in the course. If your courses don't have end dates, you won't see this color coding. This color coding is only for regular courses, not Flex assignments or Assessments.

Remember, these color codes only tell you how much of the course work you've finished. They don't tell you how well you're doing. You could be ahead of pace, but not scoring well on lessons and tests. Your Course Grade and Current Grade may be visible. Current Grade: the grade you've earned for completed and scored work to date. Course Grade: the grade you'd receive if no more work is completed.

Ahead of pace. If you're passing your mastery tests, you're doing great! Keep doing what you're doing, and you should have no problem finishing the course on time.
